FATHER SHOTGUNS BABY: Although it appears in this photo as though Wayman Kimball, 34, 1432 N. Pershing (inset), is keeping a watchful eye over his eight-month-old daughter, Juanita, he actually is not — nor could he have been doing so last week when he critically wounded the child with a blast from a .12-gauge shotgun. The baby's overseer here is an unidentified General Hospital intern preparing the child for surgery. (Recorder photo by Jim Burres)

SO MUCH GRIEF: With so much grief already to bear, 34-year-old Mrs. Mildred Kimball, 923 N. Belmont, is asked to identify the man she said fired a 12-gauge shotgun into her home last week and critically wounded her eight-month-old daughter, Juanita. The woman later identified her estranged husband, Wayman Kimball, left, as the gunman. The blast also wounded Mrs. Kimball and two friends who were visiting at the Kimball home. (Recorder photo by Jim Burres)

'Housing Bias' Under Probe At Terre Haute

TERRE HAUTE — Possible discrimination in an Urban Renewal project here is being investigated by the regional administrator in Chicago. It was learned this week.

Correspondence between William L. Slayton, U. S. Urban Renewal Commissioner, and John T. McCollum, the regional head at Chicago, regarding the Terre Haute situation was made public by Sen. R. Vance Hartke in Washington, D. C.

The Hoosier Senator had inquired into the set-up after Rev. Ford Gibson, president of the Indiana NAACP, told him Terre Haute homeowners and civic leaders were worried. Commissioner Slayton said McCollum has direct responsibility. "I have asked him to look into it and report at once," the commissioner related.

ANXIETY IN THE Negro community here has centered around three points:

1. Employment practices. It is feared contractors building new housing units after the present structures have been cleared will not hire Negroes. Rev. Gibson has threatened to seek an injunction against the project if such is the case.
2. Is this slum clearance or "Negro clearance"? There is a widespread fear the new houses in the Near Southside area will be "for whites."
3. Unfair appraisals of the property.

Infant Critically Injured When Dad Fires Shot Through Door

An eight-month-old baby girl was injured critically Saturday when struck by a blast from a 12-gauge shot gun fired by her father who, police believe, had intended to kill his estranged wife and then take his own life. Three other persons, including the child's mother, were injured slightly by the blast.

Mrs. Mildred Kimball, 34, said she had been separated from her husband, Wayman Kimball, 1432 N. Pershing, since July 3 and had been living at the home of her sister and brother-in-law at 923 N. Belmont.

Mrs. Wayman said she was visiting at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Betty Henderson, 763 N. Belmont, when her son came in and

THREE DEAD AS TEMPERERS SOAR WITH TEMPERATURE

Young Mother of 4 Among Victims; Haughville Man Slain Driving Car

By GEORGE P. STEWART II

Temperers zoomed with the heat and humidity last week and police, kept busy by the upsurge of violent assaults which always seems to follow the muggy weather, counted a total of three dead.

The dead included a 27-year-old woman, mortally wounded by her disgruntled boyfriend, who snuffed out his own life with a blast from .12-gauge shotgun less than an hour later.

Mrs. Pearlina McFarling, 3290 Ralston, died Saturday in General Hospital of wounds suffered Thursday evening when she was beaten and shot by Eugene L. Hutchinson, 22, whose affections, police said, she had apparently spurned.

After shooting and beating Mrs. McFarling, Hutchinson raced from the scene in his 1957 Ford, went to 265 Guilford, the home of Coot Triplett, where he grabbed the .12-gauge shotgun from a bedroom closet, placed the barrel against his right eye, pulled the trigger and completely blew away the back of his head.

POLICE CALLED to 3287 Ralston, where the shooting occurred, found Mrs. McFarling seated on the kitchen floor gasping for breath. She had three wounds in her forehead and a gaping hole in the back of her head.

Broken into three pieces on the floor, police found an "over and under" combination .22-caliber rifle and .410-gauge shotgun.

Armed with the combination rifle and shotgun Hutchinson chased Mrs. McFarling from her home and she ran across the street into the home of a neighbor. The elderly neighbor, who was sitting on her front porch, said until she heard the shot she thought the couple were playing. Det. Sgt. Lester Cunningham of the police homicide

10,300 Serious Crimes Reported in County Last Year, FBI Report Shows

The FBI's Uniform Crime Reports for 1960, compiled under the direction of Director J. Edgar Hoover, revealed that 10,300 serious crimes were reported to Indianapolis and Marion County law enforcers last year, with a significant increase in robberies.

Over the entire state, 39,896 criminal acts were reported. City crime in 1960 based on offenses known to the police, had total increases ranging from 14 to 7 percent, compared to no noticeable increase in population.

City and county officials reported in 1960: 32 murder and non-negligent manslaughter cases, 13 manslaughter by negligence cases, 30 forcible rapes, 472 robberies, 302 aggravated assaults, 3,281 burglary-breaking and entering cases, 498 larcenies-theft, $50 and over, 3,004 larcenies-theft under $50, and 2,398 auto thefts.

OVER THE STATE there were 207 murder and non-negligent manslaughter cases reported, 226 forcible rapes, 1,606 robberies, 1,745 aggravated assaults, 20,035 burglaries, 8,522 larcenies, $50 and over, and 7,561 auto thefts.

The FBI's report revealed that serious crime in the United States last year reached a new all-time high, with an astounding 98 percent increase over 1950 while the population increase during the same decade was only 18 percent.

THE REPORT, based on data submitted by more than 7,700 police agencies, shows that lawlessness continued its upward surge with 1,861,300 serious crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny $50 and over, and auto thefts reported in 1960—14 percent higher than in 1959, or 230,870 more serious crimes than in the prior year.

During 1960 a serious crime was committed every 15 seconds in the United States. A murder, forcible rape or assault to kill occurred every three minutes.

The FBI report indicated that throughout 1960 there was a murder every 58 minutes, a forcible rape every 34 minutes, and an aggravated assault every 4 minutes.

A burglary was perpetrated every 39 seconds, a larceny of $50 and over occurred every minute.

END OF LOVE AFFAIR: A fiery love triangle among a man, his wife and another woman ended in violence last week when the angry man shot and killed his screaming girlfriend and then blew his own brains out with a .12-gauge shotgun. Eugene L. Hutchinson, 24, 2339 Sheldon (top photo), lies dead in a pool of blood, while his grief-stricken wife, Louise (bottom photo), is escorted from the shooting scene by two unidentified friends. ## Civil Rights Fighter Here

A young, courageous man who has played a strategic position in the sit-ins, wade-ins, and play-ins in South Carolina is in Indianapolis this weekend to begin his tour of Indiana.

James Blake, a native of Charleston, S. C., will be here until Sunday and will travel around the state to reactivate and organize NAACP Youth Councils.

A national field director for the NAACP, Mr. Blake said that he was organizer of the play-ins, a movement to test municipal recreational facilities, and has been arrested on numerous occasions in his fight for "Freedom by '63."

Mr. Blake is a student at Morehouse.

Prospects Seem Bright for Young Chicago Judge

CHICAGO (ANP) — George Leighton, one of Chicago's most outstanding practicing attorneys and James B. Parsons, the youngest Negro judge in age and experience in the city, are under serious consideration for federal judgeships.

At the moment, the prospects of Judge Parsons seem brighter because of the favorable publicity he is receiving in connection with a sensational trial over which he is presiding.

The case involves eight policemen who are accused of being accomplices of Richard Morrison, an admitted professional burglar. It was Morrison's confession that he and the police officers had been systematically breaking into stores and warehouses that led to a reorganization of the police department and the appointment of O. W. Wilson as new superintendent.

LEIGHTON, HOWEVER, a Harvard educated attorney, is highly respected by other members of the profession and has established a reputation as a criminal pleader though much of his practice is civil.

He is a member of the law firm of Moore, Ming and Leighton. The Cook County Bar association has been insisting that one of the four vacancies on the federal bench here go to a Negro.

Both President John Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy have declared themselves favorable to more Negroes in the federal judiciary.

However, local politicians have not been exactly enthusiastic with the exception of Sen. Paul Douglas who is actively working for the appointment of a Negro federal judge here.

Appointment of Parsons or Leighton would bump one man from the list reportedly turned in at Washington by Mayor Daley.

The list was composed of Donald J. O'Brien of Chicago, Illinois Senate minority leader, Circuit Judge Thomas E. Kluczyński, Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, and Chief Justice Richard B. Austin of Criminal court.

When Harry Truman was President, Sen. Douglas blocked appointment of Harrington, a Democratic organization choice, by use of that traditional Senate phrase: "The manner and method of his selection is obnoxious to me."

That vacancy remained open to be filled by President Eisenhower. Congressman William L. Dawson who would certainly be at least consulted on the appointment of a Negro judge has not expressed a choice among the Negro possibilities nor even urged publicly the appointment of a Negro.

Jailed Wrongly, Man Asserts; Considers Suit

An Eastside businessman who was arrested earlier this week on charges of interfering with officers told The Recorder Thursday afternoon that he plans to take direct action against the arresting officer possibly through a suit.

George Roddy Jr., 31, of 2354 Columbia, owner of the One-Stop Custard, 2153 Martindale, said that he was the victim of a false arrest. Roddy said that Tuesday night he came down to his store to close up and upon arriving saw a large crowd which had gathered after a white man allegedly tried to entice a 9-year-old Negro girl into his car. The 37-year-old white man was later arrested on a preliminary charge of assault and battery.

HE SAID THAT an officer appearing on the scene said, "All right, I'm going to clean up. Let's move on." Mr. Roddy told the

Response To Appeal For Blood Gratifying

Two skilled heart surgeons at Riley Hospital for Children worked for five hours Monday to perform a delicate operation on Little Miss Lenora Jean Hicks, four-year-old victim of a congenital heart defect.

According to Mrs. Florence Hicks, 1410 Columbia, mother of the tot, doctors said her daughter underwent the operation very well and they are satisfied with her condition and think she will pull through.

MRS. HICKS, in her own gentle way, thanked The Recorder for letting the public know that she, and most of all her daughter, needed blood donors last week. "The operation could not have been performed if those wonderful people had not responded to

The Recorder appeal," the grateful mother said. She added, "I think the article in The Recorder was very nice. It helped a lot in securing donors." The soft-spoken mother also said Rev. A. M. Hughes, pastor of Greater St. Luke Baptist Church, was helpful in getting persons to donate the 11 pints of blood needed.

Mrs. Hicks said that at the Indiana University Medical Center there was an overflow of donors willing to give blood for her child. She said she remained at the hospital during the entire operation — from 8 a. m. till 12:50 p. m. Monday and that 48 hours of waiting was necessary before she knew whether or not the operation was completely successful.

At 10:45 a. m. Thursday Little Lenora was reported "critical but somewhat improved" in Riley Hospital. Whether or not she undergoes any more operations for the heart defect will depend on how she gets along when released about two weeks from now, according to Mrs. Hicks.

Little Lenora's trouble started when she was about a week old. A visiting nurse told Mrs. Hicks that something was wrong with her daughter's heart and suggested that she take the youngster to a doctor.

TAKING HER DAUGHTER to a local physician, Mrs. Hicks was informed that Little Lenora had an enlarged heart and was referred to Riley Hospital. For two years Mrs. Hicks took her daughter to the Riley Clinic monthly where they performed electrocardiograph tests and discovered that she had a hole in her heart.

Because she was so young, Mrs. Hicks said that the operation had to be delayed for two years. Battling through the serious ordeal not wanting to believe what her child's fate could be, but yet realizing that the condition existed, Mrs. Hicks said the first surgery was finally performed on her daughter June 21.

Little Lenora's future seems a lot brighter now and with prayers and hope Mrs. Hicks and her brothers are hoping for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Hicks is the mother of three other children: Carol, 3; Ronnie, 2, and Rose Ann, 9 months.

ute, a car was stolen every two minutes, and every six minutes witnessed a robbery during 1960. The report indicates that robberies and burglaries were each up 18 percent in 1960 over 1959. Murders had a sharp 6 percent rise, aggravated assaults were up 5 percent and forcible rapes occurred with 3 percent greater.

ARRESTS OF juveniles have more than doubled since 1950, while the population of youths aged 10 to 17 increased by less than one-half. There was one reported arrest for every 26 young persons between ages 10 to 17 in 1960.

Last year juvenile arrests occurred 9 and 8 percent more frequently in city and rural areas, respectively, than in 1959. In cities, total arrests were up 2 percent over 1959, with adult arrests registering only a 1 percent increase while juvenile arrests jumped 9 percent.

CITY YOUTHS, while comprising 14 percent of all police arrests, were involved in 62 percent of auto theft arrests, 51 percent of the burglaries, 49 percent of the larcenies, 28 percent of the robberies, 20 percent of the forcible rapes, 12 percent of the aggravated assaults, and 8 percent of the arrests for murder. Crime, for the past five years has been rising over four times faster than the population. Since 1950 the rate (number of crimes per 100,000 persons) has increased 66 percent. In 1960 criminal activity reached a peak in November after a low in March. The FBI reported 3,640 arrests for every 100,000 persons in the United States in 1960, with city arrests occurring at almost 3 times the rural rate. Female arrests rose 10 percent in rural areas while increasing only 3 percent in city areas.

Dancers Offered Chance to Display Talent On Show

To stimulate interest and show the potential that is available in the Greater Indianapolis area in the dance field, a Dance Festival Program is being planned for the first time in this city and is open to anyone interested in jazz, blues or musical comedy.

Auditions will be held July 29 and July 30 from 1 p. m. till 4 p. m. on the fourth floor of the Star-News Building, 307 N. Pennsylvania.

It is not necessary to be a trained dancer to try out for the program which will be sponsored by a non-profit organization and is open to the public.

Person 16 years of age or over, interested but unable to attend the auditions should send their name, address and other pertinent information to Dick Stewart, 3007 Falcon Lane, Indianapolis 24.

division told The Recorder. "We didn't expect her to live to get to the hospital," Sgt. Cunningham said as he told how doctors at the hospital had described the young woman's brains as being a "soupy mess."

Sgt. Cunningham said he learned from Hutchinson's family that he had been carrying on an affair with Mrs. McFarling, the mother of four small children, for the past five or six months. "From what we found out," the ace detective related, "he had been dividing his time between his wife, Mrs. Louise Hutchinson, 26, 2339 Sheldon, and Mrs. McFarling."

Apparently in an effort to persuade Mrs. McFarling to return to him, Hutchinson had gone to her home and an argument developed after her refusal, police learned. Before the investigation was complete at the Ralston address the homicide team received a call to investigate Hutchinson's suicide at 2605 Guilford, the Triplett home. Triplett's son and daughter, who were working in the backyard, said they had seen Hutchinson run into the house after carrying his car to a halt at the curb.

Jailed Wrongly

A few minutes later they heard the loud report from the shotgun and ran for their father who found Hutchinson lying in a pool of blood on the floor. The blood-spattered shotgun lay at his side.

TRIPLETT, WHO TOLD police that he was "out of his mind for two or three days," said the dead man had pawned the shotgun to him for $10.

"He had been here earlier and asked me for the shotgun," Triplett recalled, "and I refused because he didn't have the $10." He later commented to Sgt. Cunningham: "I wish I had given it to him so he could have killed himself somewhere else."

In the other homicide, Luther Clanton, 50, 1013 N. Miley, was shot fatally Saturday night as he drove his car on West 10th, near LaRue Carter Memorial Hospital, by his common-in-law mate, Mrs. Ruth Ector, 47, also of the Miley Avenue address. The car skidded 177 feet, police said, before coming to rest on the hospital lawn.

The woman emptied a .32-caliber revolver into Clanton's body, claiming an argument over whether or not the couple would take a trip to Terre Haute.

"He wanted to go to Terre Haute, I didn't want to go and when he kept insisting I took the revolver out of my purse and pumped five shots into him," police quoted the woman as saying.

"I was just tired of him pushing me around and abusing me," the emotionless Haughville woman told police. Mrs. Ector appeared in Municipal Court Room 3 Monday and was bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury on a charge of murder.

Judge Ernie S. Burke ordered her held without bond in the women's section of the Marion County Jail.

Funeral services for Mrs. McFarling were held Wednesday in Jacobs Brothers Eastside Chapel, with burial in New Crown Cemetery.

A native of Brinkley, Ark., she had lived in Indianapolis seven years.

Survivors include two daughters, Doris Jean and Pauline McFarling; two sons, Walter and Robert

C., last week for a meeting with President Kennedy. erty to me condemned is feared by many. The appraisals have been made by local real estate dealers, but the valuations arrived at have not been revealed at this writing. Following Senator Hartke's action as reported in last week's Recorder, homeowners here were "feeling better" with strengthened confidence they will get a fair shake.

MEANWHILE, REV. GIBSON said he will confer with William A. Morris of South Bend, NAACP state housing chairman, on a plan to hold a housing workshop in Terre Haute in order to spotlight the situation.

Indiana Bell Aide Cities Company's 'Policy on Merits'

The question of fair employment at Indiana Bell Telephone Co. has narrowed to a matter of whether the company's policy is being observed consistently.

NAACP leaders who had contacted the public utility this week reported receiving an answer from Frank Mussetter, vice-president in charge of public relations.

Mr. Mussetter offered to meet with the NAACP, the spokesmen said, and also enclosed a copy of Indiana Bell's "long-standing policy" of merit employment. The statement of policy was signed by Roy C. Echols, president of the firm.

THE NAACP SUGGESTED that persons who believe they have been refused employment or promotion by Indiana Bell because of their race get in touch with one of the co-chairmen of the NAACP Labor and Industry Committee. The organization will then take it up with the company.

The co-chairmen are Herman Walker, who can be reached at United Packinghouse Workers Local 117, 621 W. Washington, and Gerold Baumann, 3614 Graceland. Just give them a ring!

told her, "Wayman is outside with a shotgun."

STILL BRUISED from a beating suffered two weeks ago, Mrs. Wayman said she went to the phone and was calling police when the blast from the shotgun tore through the door.

"I shouted to the operator 'He's shooting now' and my cousin grabbed me and pulled me up the stairs," Mrs. Kimball, who was struck in the left arm and hip, said.

William Taylor, who was holding the baby, was seated almost directly in front of the door. The main brunt of the blast struck the infant in the back of the head, in the back and in both arms.

After firing the blast, Wayman kicked the door down, witnesses said, and showed no remorse when told that his baby had been badly injured.

"He just walked through the house, still carrying the shotgun, and out the back door asking where I had gone," Mrs. Wayman said. Wayman was told that his wife had fled out the back door and he was in the yard, when police, called hastily by the telephone operator, arrived. He started to run but was apprehended after a short chase.

Kimball, who only recently was released on parole after serving six years in an armed robbery charge and was free on bond on a federal narcotics count, was charged with assault and battery with intent to murder.

ball had left a note in his Before the shooting Kim apartment professing his love for her and stating, "I'm sorry it had to end like this."

Because her husband is out on bond the attractive housewife said she has been afraid to visit her injured daughter. "If I ran into him at the hospital I don't know what he would do," she remarked.

Mrs. Kimball, Taylor and Mrs. Dorothy Weathers, 34, 1615 Bellefontaine, were injured slightly and were treated and released at General Hospital.

Chatting with the FAC

By FLSA JACKSON

Turkey Run State Park is beautiful now and everyone had a grand time last Sunday. The trails have been greatly improved but they are still rugged. The age range of those on the trip was from 60 years to six weeks (I'm living dangerously making that statement).

A recent reception for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kirk and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ifeanyi Osili of Lagos, was a big affair. The young couple was well received by an overflow crowd.

Mrs. Lavonia Harris and Mrs. Audree Barker were in charge of the trip to Turkey Run. While I'm on trips, perhaps you would like to know that the reservations for the Labor Day weekend trip to Niagara Falls are just about completed. Vacancies still remain for the August tour to Denver and Colorado Springs.

The Farm Colony Party last Saturday was successful. About 351 residents were served all the cake and ice cream they could eat. Mrs. James Dunlevy, supervisor of nursing, said that many looked forward to the Health and Welfare Committee's party. Mr. Dunlevy is manager of the Farm Colony.

Starling W. James, FAC president, and Mrs. Hattie Davis, committee chairman, expressed sincere thanks to all who donated their time and money toward the annual event. The Colony is located at 2400 N. Tibbs.

Monday night the board of directors voted to buy 100 new chairs and 12 new banquet tables. Kenneth Smith, chairman of the project, was responsible for dealers presenting their chairs and tables to the board at the regular meeting.

George Richardson, FAC sergeant-at-arms, has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he says he had a grand and glorious time.

Mrs. Anna Mae McKinney, a new member of the Puella Amicae Club, was hostess at the last meeting. Club members enjoyed a delicious repast. Plans for the club's annual summer outing are practically completed. The club will entertain their families and friends at a picnic August 20.

Mrs. Margaret Edwards was hostess to the previous meeting and Mrs. Lenora Maholland will be hostess at the next meeting. Mrs. Clara Bridgeforth is club president.

My niece, Miss Brenda Moore, is having a grand and glorious time in California visiting my daughter, Gilda in Vallejo, my son, Glenn, in San Francisco and Mrs. Anna Davis and their families in L.A.

She will jet home this weekend. Brenda says the jet flight out there was fabulous. She lives with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jeter, my sister and brother-in-law at 1418 E. 27th.

Program Fetes Mrs. R. Townsend

A surprise appreciation program recently feted Mrs. Ruth Townsend, daughter of Deacon and Mrs. William Harris, for services she has rendered two church groups.

Mrs. Townsend serves as organist for the Friendship Baptist Church Choir and the Bethesda Baptist Church Missionary Chorus. Both groups played hosts at the affair.

Mrs. Queen Ella Moore was mistress of ceremonies. The honoree was recipient of an inscribed heart-shaped bronze plaque presented by Mrs. Othella Sawyer. She also received an award from Mrs. Beatrice Mallory.

Among those present at the affair were her husband, Henry Townsend; three daughters, Mrs. Ruthie McIntyre, Mrs. Camille Weeden and Miss Barbara Collins; and two grandchildren, Linda Collins and Derrick Lawrence Weeden.

Mrs. Townsend has served as organist for the Choir and Usher Board 12 years and the Bethesda Chorus for 10 years. She is a Junior High teacher and director for the Red Circle Missionary Group of Friendship Baptist.

Remarks at the program were made by Rev. A. Johnson of Friendship and Rev. G. M. Mimms of Bethesda.

Visit Abroad Makes Young People Glad to Be In America

Two local representatives who recently traveled to Haiti, Jamaica and Puerto Rico with 30 other young people in the United States returned last week grateful that they are in America and full of sympathy for the people in those countries — some of whom are starving and others living in slums.

Miss Mary Cockerham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cockerham of 2850 N. Capitol, and James Fowler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler of 2930 Indianapolis, gave these views upon arrival to the city following the three-week Caribbean Conversation Conference.

Both came in direct contact with the foreign people since they lived, talked and went to church with them.

Miss Cockerham said that there is great starvation in Haiti and people there really need help. She said that some live in slums and others in hut houses made of mud and straw. "For example," she said, "We think Indiana Avenue is bad, but that street looks good compared to the places we visited. People eat off the streets and out of garbage cans seeking food wherever they can find it."

On the island you will find that 90 per cent of the people are Negroes. I believe that American churches really ought to do more to make conditions easier over there."

Mr. Fowler stated that the people who represent our country on the island have "little or no contact" with the people who actually need help but socialize only with those in "higher society. They live in fine houses."

The Shortridge High School senior continued by noting that conditions were so bad that four new born babies out of 10 died of starvation. He said that the nearest hospital to them was the Albert Schweitzer Hospital which was 90 miles away. He said that the hospital has done a lot to help save the lives of the many people.

Fowler said, "Many of them like the United States in Puerto Rico. They wonder why the United States wants to teach others how to treat people of other colors when they do not do it themselves."

The people like the Peace Corps plan as set forth by President John F. Kennedy. Their school system is different from ours. A child starts school at the age of seven and stays in grade school until he is 15 then he goes to high school.

We met the Governors of the Island, who spoke to us and made us welcome. We did not run across any racial differences as they treated us very nice."

Both representatives agreed that Jamaica is a beautiful country but that there is a lot of mission work which needs to be done, and that

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

Greetings to all my fans! After visiting four states — Philadelphia, Pa., Atlantic City, N. J., Washington, D. C., and New York City, N. Y., I am somewhat thrilled.

First I must thank the Indiana State officers of the NAACP under the splendid leadership of Dr. Ford Gibson for sending me to Philadelphia as a delegate to the NAACP national convention.

The welcome for the 1500 Indiana delegates to the City of Brotherly Love was impressive and educational. Mrs. Gertrude Barnes was general chairman of the convention planning committee. Sessions were held in the beautiful Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel and mass meetings at Tindley Temple Methodist Church, Broad and Fitzwater streets.

Youth meetings were held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. Our own Bill Hardy, former state president of the youth NAACP, let his presence be known by working diligently for the youth movements.

Bill, a native of this city, entered Central State College at Wilberforce last September. He represented the college chapter at the convention. Also present was Miss Carole A. Stevenson, 2327 Kenwood, Miss Stevenson is assistant secretary of the local NAACP branch. She too worked hard.

Within a day's notice Richard Henderson, former society editor for The Recorder, met me on arrival at the Hotel Sheraton. He had already secured a lovely room for me at the home of Richard and Lottie Brown of 6140 Westminister. They are very fine people as is Allan Parkinson, a friend of theirs, who assisted me in going to and from the hotel.

Tuesday, Mr. Henderson and I journeyed to Atlantic City. The scene of the beautiful Atlantic Ocean was grand. It was like paradise. Enroute to Philly, we stopped in a Chinese Restaurant. A glimpse at the food made me wonder if two or 10 persons were going to be served. The menu consisted of wonton soup, egg rolls, barbecue, rice, chicken, chop suey, butterfly shrimp, almond cookies and tea. Mr. Brock joined us before we left Atlantic City and made the party more interesting.

Friday the ole scribe hung around to be sure Indiana was well represented in the voting. Curtis Strong and Mrs. Edna Morris of Gary, the C. H. Wills of South Bend, Atty. Rufus Kuykendall, Rev. James Jones and Chandler Houston, all of the Hoosier state, really did some plugging. To my surprise, Rev. N. E. Daniels, one-time choice for pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church, and presently pastoring in Chicago, was active at the convention. Rev. Daniels is a native of Clarksville, Tenn.

Saturday "R. C." phoned and said, "It's a good day to visit New York." I met him at the station and travelled to New York City. We dined at an exclusive eating place.

Sunday I met Mr. Henderson at Calvary Episcopal Church where he is organist. Rev. Fr. Thomas S. Logan is rector. The hospitality was fine, the church was beautiful and the minister preached a lovely sermon.

I was introduced to Miss Margaret F. Robinson, known as one of the greatest sopranos, who recently appeared in a recital at William Henry Converse High School at Dover, Del. She is an attractive young woman with a pleasing personality. Miss Robinson has promised to answer my call for service.

Last, but very important, thanks are extended Atty. Cary D. Jacobs, proprietor of Jacobs Brothers Funeral Home; Rev. A. M. Hughes, pastor of St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church, and Dr. L. B. Meriwether, a dentist and chairman of directors for the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, for their liberal contributions given me to help on my added expenses.

You can imagine my going to bed at 2 a.m. Wednesday and having to catch a train for Washington, D.C. at 8:30 a.m. the same day. I made it but had to go through 18 or more coaches before finding a seat.

I must give credit to George Blair of Detroit who held a seat for me. It was luck I was not left out because some being late had to take another train.

More than 1200 persons arrived in Washington, D.C., and marched to the Capitol. It was a sight to see Dr. Gibson leading the Indiana delegation. He was always a step ahead of all. With him Indiana took no back seat for any state.

Dr. Gibson had pictures taken of the 200 or more Hoosier delegates. We kept appointments with Hoosier Senators and Representatives and President John F. Kennedy. Senator Homer Capehart entertained the Hoosier delegation at a luncheon. It was enjoyed by Mr. Hardy, Atty. John Preston Ward, Willie Collier, president of the East Chicago branch and Miss Stevenson.

Senator Vance Hartke made Rev. Gibson "Senator for a Day." Also with the party was Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Love of Gary. Rev. Stephen Gill Spottswood and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, were spokesmen for the entire delegation.

Finishing at the White House, Miss Willie Effie Thomas of Evansville, first vice-president of the state, and I were entertained at an elaborate dinner at the

Mrs. Knox may be identified as the charming hostess who greets callers daily at City Hall. She is hostess to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Yvonne Wright Knox, and four grandchildren, George, Jr., 17; John Elwood, 14; Adell Emma, 8, and Craig Streeter, 6.

According to Mrs. Knox they will remain here about two more weeks before returning to San Francisco where Lt. Col. Knox is stationed. The first of August personable Mrs. Knox will move from her City Hall position to the new Statehouse where she will work with the industrial committee.

Lt. Col. Knox and family returned this month from Tokyo where he was serving with the Air Corps. He will have been in the branch of service 20 years in October. Lt. Col. Knox and family have also resided three years in Alaska and have travelled widely throughout the United States.

Presently they are in New York visiting Mrs. Knox's sister, Mrs. Peggy Woods, a social worker at Syracuse. They are to return here Friday.

OBSERVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY An evening out together in a quiet Chinese restaurant marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rogers of 141 S. Webster, a popular Southside couple.

The Rogers observed their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, July 25, by eating out. Both are members of First Baptist Church, Irvington, and are natives of Jackson, Miss. They came here 20 years ago.

Mrs. Rogers worked at RCA for 13 years before retiring three years ago while Mr. Rogers is proprietor of Rogers' Body Shop.

At First Baptist Mrs. Rogers is president of the Pastor's Aid and is a member of the Women's Chorus, Sisters of Help, Senior Missionary Society, Gospel Meditators and Scottish Rite, Order of Eastern Stars. She is chairman of the latter group and is a member of the Elizabeth Grand Chapter of the Scottish Rite Masons of Indiana.

Presently she is practicing home nursing and thus cares for elderly persons. As a hobby, the celebrant enjoys making hats, purses, earrings and corsages.

Her husband is a member of the First Baptist Men's Chorus and is a 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Mason. Mr. Rogers was formerly an Elk and according to his wife, "loves to fish" as a hobby. Many more happy anniversaries, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers!

Mrs. J. R. Dent of Louisville has been the recent house guest of Mrs. Josephine Ladell of 609 Congress. Mrs. Ladell has driven her visitor home and returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Porter of 1330 W. 28th have recently returned home after spending a three-week vacation in Tacoma, Wash., where they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Pfc. and Mrs. Lawrence Monger of 4219 Roosevelt in Tacoma.

Mrs. Prince Claiborne (right) is a lecturer, clubwoman, hostess, homemaker and mother. She is shown demonstrating the whipping qualities of Carnation to Vivian Sutton, Director of Young Women's Activities at Carver House in St. Louis.

Vivacious Jean Claiborne, St. Louis, Missouri

The career girl who makes life easier for 50 thousand homemakers

Jean Claiborne has been a Market Consultant for the Carnation Company for the past ten years.

She conducts cooking classes, talks at PTA and club meetings, appears on television, and shows young mothers how to prepare infant formulas with Carnation Evaporated Milk.

"I had plenty of extra practice with my own 3-year-old, Michael. His doctor recommended Carnation for his formula, of course."

Mrs. Claiborne conducts dozens of cooking demonstrations every year.

"I love to show the smoothness of puddings made with Carnation," she says. (See recipe at right.)

Carnation is the milk that looks, pours and even whips like golden country cream—at ½ the cost!

Carnation in the red and white can is the world's favorite brand.

Little Michael Claiborne loves Carnation. Mixed with an equal amount of water, it's still as rich as state standards for whole milk.

RECIPE:

Carnation
DOUBLE-QUICK
BANANA PUDDING

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

24 to 28 vanilla wafers
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
1 cup undiluted
CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 cup water
1 to 2 sliced bananas

Line a 1-quart casserole with vanilla wafers. Mix the pudding mix, Carnation and water in a saucepan. Cook according to package directions. Pour half of pudding mixture into lined casserole. Top with banana slices. Place remaining wafers on top of pudding. Cover with remaining pudding mixture. Chill before serving.

Barr Considers Making Bid for U. S. Congress

Visiting the city recently to speak for a local group of business men, former 11th District Congressman Joseph W. Barr stated that the might "consider" being again a candidate for Congress from Indianapolis.

Mr. Barr is now assistant to the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury. He pointed out in a conference with newsmen, that when he took his present job he agreed to serve for four. However, in support of whatever inclination he might have to throw his hat in the ring again, he still has well-wishers and a manner of support in the District.

IN THE CONFERENCE with local newsmen it was noted that he had supported the Kennedy administration's aid to education bill. Again he praised the omnibus housing bill passed by Congress, yet locally he was once considered conservative leaning to the immediate right.

Concerning the educational bill sponsored by the Kennedy administration he stated that several studies since 1929 reveal that about 25 percent of the nation's real growth can be traced directly to the increased educational level of our force.

Further he stated that to manage and to operate the industry of the nation in the 1960's the nation unquestionably will need a highly trained force of labor, professional and management skills.

latest in fashions will be viewed. Friends are urged to attend and especially meet their new pastor, Rev. J. A. P. Mackey.

Last Sunday marked the closing of the New Bethel Baptist church convention. Herman King was president. Rev. J. T. Highbaugh, pastor of Good Samaritan Baptist Church, spoke. His singers, representing three church departments, rendered music.

Mrs. Virtia Downey and another young woman whose name I failed to get, directed the singers who were from the ages of 5 up. Among members of Good Samaritan were Mrs. J. T. Highbaugh and Gertrude Wooten.

Newly-elected officers of the church convention include: Mrs. Perry Hopkins, president; Elizabeth Kirk, first vice-president; Wanda Christian, recording secretary; Roselyn Huff, statistician; Frances Boglin, historian; Mable Washington, chorister; Clementine Barlow, pianist; William Reed, treasurer and William Christian, parliamentarian.

Howard Connell, Mrs. Viola Mills and I closed the day last Sunday at Corinthian Baptist Church, where Mr. Connell is a member. This church will charter a bus to Hopkinsville, Ky., Sunday. Many Eastsiders came from Hopkinsville. The hubby has already informed me that if the bus doesn't go, I must prepare to go by car. My uncle, Rev. Les Galbreath, is pastoring near Hopkinsville. Rev. Stephen Wells will be looking for all Kentucky folks.

I would like to mention articles arriving too late or which occurred while I was away. Rev. Robert Little preached here and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Means' daughter was married.

Violet Talley, Betty Gay, Rose Edwards, Gloria Singleton, Henderson Johnson and others were disturbed because these articles didn't appear in the paper.

James Bousley, faithful member of New Bethel for many years, is in General Hospital on Ward 2. Mr. Bousley formerly lived at 1545 Yandes. Drop a card or make a special visit to one who has served the church and community for over 35 years to your scribe's knowledge.

Northside Seiberling Tire Dealer Holding Big Stock Reduction Sale

The president and general manager of Tire Mart, Inc., Tom A. Tormay, at 4830 N. Keystone Ave., announces a fifty per cent stock reduction sale. The firm is an exclusive dealer in the city for the nationally famous line of Seiberling automotive tires.

The retail sales manager, Russ White, and operations manager Allen Holcombe, both well known veterans in their field, join with Mr. Tormay in inviting prospective buyers, or buyers of automobile tires to visit the Tire Mart salesroom "for better buys in better tires."

MR. TORMAY and Mr. White boast of a tire service complete and a size for every use, passenger and truck. Again they stress Seiberling Super Service in the new, exclusive Nyltex Construction, for the first time combining "the finest qualities of both nylon and rayon construction, into one superb tire."

The Nyltex Construction, Mr. Tormay notes, proved in tests is strong to begin with, stays strong with wear. It includes in construction, two inner plies of nylon, providing impact resistance and durability. Two outer plies of rayon reinforce the nylon, disperse heat, and provide riding comfort preventing "morning thump."

THE CARBOJET Tread is another exclusive Seiberling value. Mr. White acclaims. He said it is a sensational new process providing a tougher, homogenized tread rubber. This gives you a tread that is stronger, resists abrasions and tire-killing cuts. Yet for all its toughness, it offers a softer, quieter ride and longer, safer mileage.

During the stock reduction sale the firm will pay you (see advertisement elsewhere in The Recorder) for your old tire a substantial amount toward the purchase of a new Seiberling first line tire. This offer applies regardless of the size or condition of your old tire, the management notes.

THE MANAGEMENT of the Tire Mart further stresses Seiberling tire guarantee, including a road hazard guarantee, as exceptional as the tire itself. Replacements will be prorated on tread wear and based on Seiberling prices current at time of adjustment. In dealing with Tire Mart credit terms may be arranged to suit any or all responsible customers.

'Truth-in-Lending' Bill Widely Acclaimed

Outstanding or widely acclaimed in their fields of endeavor various persons over the land have endorsed recently the "Truth-in-Lending" bill sponsored in the U. S. Senate by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (Dem., Ill.).

Speaking before the Senate Banking sub-committee a veteran in the administrative ranks of the AFL-CIO on endorsing the bill observed it is high time that borrowers and buyers on time "be let in on the secret of how much any given credit commitment is going to cost."

The bill would require all sellers and lenders to spell out total finance charges and annual interest rates.

The bill has been endorsed by Bernard Baruch, internationally renowned retired business leader who is generally styled one of the nation's elder statesmen. On endorsing Sen. Douglas' bill, Mr. Baruch said it would help protect millions of consumers from "loan sharks."

On making public a telegram from Mr. Baruch, age 92, Sen. Douglas said that Mr. Baruch was known as "one of the ablest financial experts in the country" and that his endorsement carried "the weight of great experience and authority."

Sen. Douglas noted also that Mr. Baruch had joined other financial experts who have endorsed the measure. These include the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, Jr. and Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The Douglas bill would not limit the amount of finance charges or interest rates. However, opponents of the bill among other contentions assert that such efforts to regulate abuse of credit practices (costs or charges) should be left to the several states.

We contemplate the views of supporters or endorsers of the measure, otherwise:

Few credit buyers or borrowers of money have a practical comprehension of what their credit costs them.

There is a wide variety of types of rate quotations for the consumer to deal with and few people understand the relations of a monthly rate to an annual rate.

Without any limitation on the amount of finance charges or interest rates, it is still highly important credit buyers or borrowers of money have a "yardstick for the accurate and wise or practical measurement of its costs."

Concluding, Mr. Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, on one occasion observed that he was baffled by the intricacies of consumer credit costs, and that informing installment buyers of financing costs is "a commendable social and economic objective." Finally, it appears, in merits of the bill that it would clarify unseemly manners of confusion over costs in the credit market.

A New Educational Venture in Dixie

A college, in some manners, a compelling adventure in the field of education will be established at Sarasota, Fla., it was announced in New York City very recently.

The college will accept students "irrespective of racial origin or religious belief." The multi-million dollar institution will be known as New College. It is scheduled to open its doors to 1,200 students in September 1964, and future enrollment is expected to reach 2,400.

Philip H. Hiss is chairman of the board of trustees and Dr. George F. Baughman, president of New College. The college is being organized by a board of trustees and the board of home missions of the Congregational Christian Churches.

The co-educational institution will be "a prestige college in the quality of its faculty and the quality of its student body, and will provide a liberal education of the highest quality in an intimate community of learning that enjoys complete academic freedom," Dr. Baughman stated.

The founders of the college, a new educational venture in Dixieland observe that it will be free from all outside controls including that of government, pressure groups and the church.

"It will be church-related and conducted in a manner expressive of Christian principles but, in accordance with centuries-old Congregational policies, free of church control," Mr. Hiss stated. In this connection the Rev. Howard Spragg, treasurer of the board of home missions and a trustee of the new college observed, "... church control of institutions of higher learning nearly always results in inferior education."

The new college is really sponsored by the United Church of Christ, a merger of the Congregational Christian Church and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches. This represents a union of two of the oldest denominations in our country, dating back to the days of the Pilgrims.

The Congregationalists have played a major role in the development of higher education over our country beginning with the establishment of Harvard and Yale Universities. Other Congregationalist schools founded by dedicated leaders are Hampton Institute, Va.; Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Talladega College, Ala.; Allen University, South Carolina; Howard University, Washington, D. C., and still others.

Since colonial days the two religious denominations have effected a more significant role in racial relations than any other religious groups over our nation. Many of the most striking personalities in abolition activities were New Englanders of Congregationalist persuasion. Later they engaged in missionary work among the freedmen, and many historical personalities of African blood or ancestry of both the 19th and 20th Centuries accrued to our land out of the good order and Christianity of the denomination.

The founders of the new educational venture in Dixieland assert that there will not be any discrimination in selection of faculty or student body at the new college — only quality — again it will provide a liberal education of the highest quality, in an intimate community of learning that enjoys complete academic freedom.

We conclude that communicants of the Congregationalist Church are extending the great or noble role the denomination has played in our society. Whereas we will continue mindful of the recent admonition proposed to Christian churches by Dr. B. M. Herbert, president of the merged denominations or the new United Church of Christ.

He observed that more than 250 denominations in this country are "making possible extravagant competition in religion and minimizing the part all churches can play in society." He concluded, "If churches can't walk together, how can Christianity survive?" One might contemplate that the United Church of Christ espouses basic plans for our survival.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Thomas, Man From Missouri

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

LARGER LESSON: John 11:1-16, John 14:3-6, John 20:25-29, Acts 1:1-3. LESSON PRINT: John 11:7, 8, 16, 14:3-6, John 20:24-29. TIME: Christ's Last Month. PLACE: Bethany and Jerusalem. MOTTO TEXT: John 20:29.

I know you have heard the old adage, "I am the man from Missouri; you'll have to show me. We are with this. I don't believe it. Put up or shut up. Show me man today."

Take these four episodes and find the real cause of all these doubts. Episode I. Let's Go Again. John 11:7, 8, 16; Episode II. Jesus Is the Way. John 14:3-6; Episode III. Careful. Now, Don't Miss Church. John 20:24-25, and Episode IV. Walking By Faith. John 20:26-29.

LET'S GO AGAIN. Jesus, at the time Lazarus in this lesson got sick, is far away from Perea. At his last appearance with disciples, He had almost been stoned (John 10:31). Now when life had almost closed the door to these risky wild Jews back home He, our Master, dared expose us to these new threats. "Why all this flagrant daring," asked his companions. "Why?"

In answer, Jesus implies two gripping reasons: "First, my friends are there — Mary and Martha. And they need me. That's it. My friends are depending on me. I take the most difficult risk for my friends. I will walk through hell and high water for those I love. Second, 'I am carrying them a new content in my love — namely the mastery of death.'"

Jesus seemed to say here, "I shall go truly to the grave with them but I shall go further. I shall open the grave and loose Lazarus and let him go." Now of all men Thomas followed on. He said within himself, "What loyalty! He shows! What a man! I believe I'll go with Him and I'll do more; I'll die with Him. While truly I am befogged as to the direction He'll take. He commands my companionship to any risk. So let's go again."

JESUS IS THE WAY. When Jesus told them, "The way ye know," Thomas said, "No! No! Lord. How can we know the Lord?" This challenge was, "If you expect us to go with you, you had better show us."

"If life is promising ahead, show us. If there is a prepared place for a prepared people, show us where it is and how to get there." So Jesus answers, "I am the Way. I am the Truth. I am the Life. If you ever get home to the Father, you must come by me."

Livingstone tells the story of how he was lost in the deep, bush country of dark Africa. He asked one of the natives to show him the path out. He said he circled for two or three days and nights seemingly around and around and feeling more and more lost.

Then he said, "I want to get out of here and go home. Where is the way? You are going to show me." The native tribesman replied, "I know how lost you are. I have been so lost. The way is not in the stars nor is it in the earth or the lean of the bushes. I know in me the way out. To you I am the way. Follow on."

CAREFUL NOW, DON'T MISS CHURCH. The problem with Thomas here was that he just did not keep up his church-going on that first Sunday of Jesus' Resurrection. To say he had gone on vacation is too explicit to prove. There seemed no ball game at that very early historic date. Neither the auto, nor the radio had made their rebuts as man's time-losers. But the sad, sad commentary is written here into the record.

Thomas, who is called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. Often in our modern times the golf links, the car that needed washing, the fishing trip, the morning paper, or false idea of "rest" has added immensely to the doubt and hesitation of otherwise deep-seated Christians. Let us forsake not the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is.

WALKING BY FAITH. I don't know whether you appreciate this call for proof made by Thomas or not but I do. Thomas was insisting that his faith must have as many facts as possible to give. He had seen the soldiers pierce the Lord's side. He had seen the nails pierce through his hands. He had seen his limp form taken down from the Roman gibbet.

I want to believe. Show me something of valid proof. Show me. This is the persistence of a scientist. Jesus did not discourage him in his persistent quest but rather encouraged it saying, "Blessed art thou who believest and have seen."

"Reach forth thy finger," said Jesus, "Blessed." He wanted the first Apostle to India to know that down the ages one would hear the review of the Resurrection story. Believe it and be saved by this belief.

This kind of faith is beyond material investigation. It is a leap into the far, far future and grasps God. No other Apostle reaches this far this early but Thomas who gasps, "My Lord and My God."

I think this poem somewhat sums up everything here for me, and will for you who believe.

If but one message I may leave behind,
One single word of courage for my kind
It would be this — O brother, sister, friend,
Whatever life may bring, what God may send
No matter whether clouds lift soon or late
Take heart and wait.
Despair may tangle darkly at your feet,
Your faith be armed and hope once coo and sweet,
Be lost — but suddenly above a hill
A heavenly lamp set on a heavenly sill
Will shine for you and point the way to go
How well I know!
For I have walked through the dark, and I
Have seen a star rise in the blackest sky
Repeatedly it has not failed me yet,
And I have learned God never will forget
To light His lamp. If I but wait for it,
It will be lit.

Notes On Negro Crime And The Dailies

By Andrew W. Ramsey

In the last century it was popular for white people to believe that the Negro was a sort of counter-race — a pitiful imitation of the white man. To these white people the Negro was by nature a brute and, being sexually more richly than the white man, was more prone to commit crimes of passion like rape.

Science has in this century exploded the myth of special racial tendencies but to the die-hard Southerners and to many Northerners in high places, the myth and not science holds the truth.

In Indianapolis, the owners and publishers of two-thirds of the daily papers hold to the view that the Negro is criminal by nature and they never miss an opportunity to impress this view upon their readers.

Whenever a Negro is accused of a crime against the person of a white or the property of a white of the opposite sex these newspapers play the story for all that it is worth using the race label even in places where it serves no purpose when it comes to the identification of a police-sought malefactor. And in case, as it sometimes happens, the accusation was pure fiction, the newspapers do not print the corrections at all or they relegate them to the back pages.

IN THE RECENT STORY of the woman who was purportedly kidnapped by two Negroes and taken to Louisville and raped, the race-baiting newspapers gave sensational coverage to the story and undue emphasis that the alleged abductors were Negroes. Later, when the FBI and the Indianapolis and Louisville police announced that in their opinion the abduction never happened and that no Negroes were involved in what did happen, the newspapers did not attempt to repair that damage they had done to a whole group of people.

Two or three years ago, a priest was reportedly attacked on Senate Avenue and Washington Street and robbed and taken to North West Street and dumped. The race-labeling dailies went into high gear, but suddenly the stories quit appearing because the police found out something which was very unflattering to the gentleman in question and the august profession of his.

It is true that many of the muggings and robberies committed against whites by Negroes actually occur but they do occur at the places and in the manner reported by the victims and played up in the sensational press as examples of rampant Negro criminality.

Many white persons who like to go "slumming," meaning to look for sexual adventures in the Negro bordello district, come upon misadventure the same as do Negroes who chance to venture from the straight and narrow. The column does not condone the muggings and the robberies, but insists that newspapers should not play these incidents as crimes committed by Negro hoodlums against decent, self-respecting white persons.

SOCIOLOGISTS WOULD FIND it hardly strange that among Negroes there is a higher incidence of crime than among the general white population. Slums and lower economic conditions are more conducive to crimes than are prosperous or middle-class neighborhoods.

But strangely enough, the race-labeling newspapers rarely mention race when the crime committed by a Negro is directed against other Negroes even when it is a question of possible identification. It seems that they have no compassion for the victims of Negro criminals if the victims themselves are Negroes. This same attitude held by many police officers and judges tends to encourage rather than deter crimes by Negroes against other Negroes.

Nor do the race-labeling newspapers make a splash on their front pages when the victim in a crime of passion is a Negro woman or girl and the perpetrator is a white man or boy. For them rape is a heinous crime only when it involves Negro males and white females.

One of the members of the editorial staff of one of the offending papers told this writer that second day stories are never given equal treatment with first day stories, even if the first day story proves to be completely groundless. He did not seem to feel that a news-paper which has gone out of its way to create a feeling of tension in race relations has any responsibility to try to lessen that tension by equal treatment of the subsequent facts if it means departing from the formula.

What is true of the dailies is also true of some of the radio and TV reporting. They also use race-labeling and sensationalizing on stories involving Negro criminals and white victims and they also fail to retract when the initial story is proven to be a figment of the imagination of the alleged victim.

THE UNFORTUNATE THING about the situation is that newspapers and the other media of mass communication are the main hope we have of educating the general public on democratic race relations and when they serve the purpose instead of arousing endemic prejudices, the cause of advancing democracy is given a back-seat.

This column is against not only crime committed by Negroes but against crime in general and further believes that until the news media adopt the attitude that individuals rather than races commit crimes, the problem of curbing anti-social behavior on the part of some individuals is going to remain unsolved.

Letters to the Editor...

Spirit of Negro Needs Awakening

To The Editor:

Booker T. Washington did a good job for the Negro. Things have changed a great deal because of him. His vision was industrial opportunity for the Negro. He left behind a big problem which must be solved not only by industrial leaders, but taken into consideration by political, military and religious leaders as well.

If Washington was alive today he would have to make a great change. No man could successfully lead this race to freedom without first perceiving a clear interpretation of the awakening spirit of the new Negro.

All Negroes are not seeking industrial opportunity. Some are demanding a political voice. They are determined to be heard.

I heard many Negroes say Atty. Frank Beckwith needed his head examined when he ran for President of the United States.

These people haven't studied their Constitution. It clearly states that any U. S. citizen, who meets the age requirement, can run for President. We all know Atty. Beckwith was born in the U. S. After all, color is only skin deep. I call Atty. Beckwith a trail-blazer.

Sometime ago former President Truman said perhaps someday we would have a Jew for President and a Negro for vice-president. It also came over the air that in 30 years we could LOOK for a Negro President.

I think we are the biggest stumbling block to our own advancement. This, I think, is one of the whips our white friends are lashing us with. The new Negro is looking to be governor, mayor, sheriff, chief of police or an Army general. He has brains like any other man, he's not a donkey.

Day after day it is ringing over the air that Freedom is everybody's job. And now that the Negro is asking for his freedom, our white brothers are getting mad. Their actions are like a man feeding frogs to snakes and are hating the snakes because the snakes are devouring the frogs. These freedom seekers realize that the price of freedom is high. The leaders in the South are not telling their followers to take it easy; they are making history.

The sit-ins are shaking the pillars of Jim Crow and bigotry. The freedom riders have cracked the walls. It is costing the white bosses a high price.

I heard Indianapolis is getting ready. It will not be long before freedom buses from the four corners of this so-called land of the free and home of the brave will dispatch riders. Rev. George Tate

Cooperation With NAACP Praised By Washington Reader

To The Editor:

I would like to congratulate the paper and its staff for such a fine job it and you are doing in cooperating with the NAACP. This is the only way we as a race are ever going to fight racial discrimination in the world — by fighting together. So keep up the good work.

Mrs. Agnes Monger Tacoma, Washington.

Ruiz and Gaines Provide Takeoff For Flying Tribe

By CHARLES S. PRESTON
The Indianapolis Indians, as sharp a ball club as ever you'd want to watch, will depart Saturday for a road trip that will keep them out of town till Aug. 9.

Sparked by its tan one-two punch of Chico Ruiz and Joe Gaines, the Tribe showed how Sunday as it edged Omaha 5-4. This gave Cot Deal's hustling crew a five-game-to-one triumph in the series against the visitors from Nebraska.

That's hardly Hoosier hospitality, but it explained why our Indians were perched 2 games atop the pack in the American Association. (Even this independent writer will call them "our" when they play like that.)

RUZ AND GAINES, the only two Negro Triebesmen, who bat first and second in the order, lost no time putting the home club ahead in the initial inning. The amazing Chico singled and stole second.

Gaines then uncorked like a cobra out of his tortured batting stance to pole one high over the left-field wall, the ball passing through the trestle-work that supports the lights.

Thus the ebony left-fielder doubly atoned for a fielding error in the top of the first that had let in an Omaha run.

Joe, who appeared to be limping with a bad knee, erred again in the 8th but he also made fine catches in the 6th and 7th. Batting .302, Gaines is a fierce competitor all the way.

AS FOR RUZ, what're you gonna say about a guy like that—except he's not long for minor leagues? The fantastic Kid from Cuba rapped out 3 hits for 4 trips, climaxed by a double to the right-field wall that plated what proved to be the winning run; stole 3 or 2 bases, scored 2 runs, and turned in a fielding gem.

The latter play came in the 4th stanza, when Chico went almost to the left-field bullpen to snare Jim Koranda's difficult foul ball, then uncorked a peg to first that almost nipped Gerald Thomas scuffling back (Come to think of it, why was he scuffling on a foul? Anyway, it looked good.)

One of Ruiz' safeties was a 5th-inning bunt, after which he stole 2nd and 3rd and scored on an infield out.

THE VISITORS' Rene Friol was behind the plate despite an injured finger because the first-string catcher, Nate Smith, had a broken finger.

FRIOL endured a rough afternoon. The Indians showed no mercy to a wounded foe and stole 6 bases on him, or 5 if you listen to the official scorer. Rene was ticketed with an error when he overthrew second in the 5th, but the way we were brought up you must CAMPBELL, O. (ANP) — A pitching star of bygone years in Negro baseball died at the home of his sister here recently.

He was William "Dizzy" Dismukes, onetime ace pitcher, manager and more recently a major league scout. According to his sister, Mrs. Yashti Owens, the 71-year-old Dismukes died of hardening of the arteries.

Dismukes was a native of Birmingham, Ala. He spent considerable time in that city in recent years, scouting for the majors.

A fireballing pitcher in his heyday, he started for the old Indianapolis ABC's and the St. Louis Stars. He was co-manager with Sam Crawford of the Birmingham Black Barons, and later manager of the club when it was reorganized under the ownership of H. L. Moore in 1938.

Dismukes also served for a period as administrative assistant to Tom Baird, chief of the Kansas City Monarchs.

HE WAS THE second of the ABC's to pass away within a month. Wilson "Connie" Day, one-time star second-sacker, died at Indianapolis on June 27.

Olympic Champ Wins 1st Pro Bout

DETROIT (ANP)—Wilbert McClure, Olympic middleweight champ from Toledo, gained a unanimous but close decision in his pro debut last week against Detroit's Jonathan Washington.

McClure, a recent University of Toledo graduate, floored Washington in the 2nd round of the 4-round bout. He fought superbly, defensively, in the 4th.

"I didn't know," McClure said after the bout, "that those preliminary boxers were so tough. This was a hard fight and I am happy to get through it."

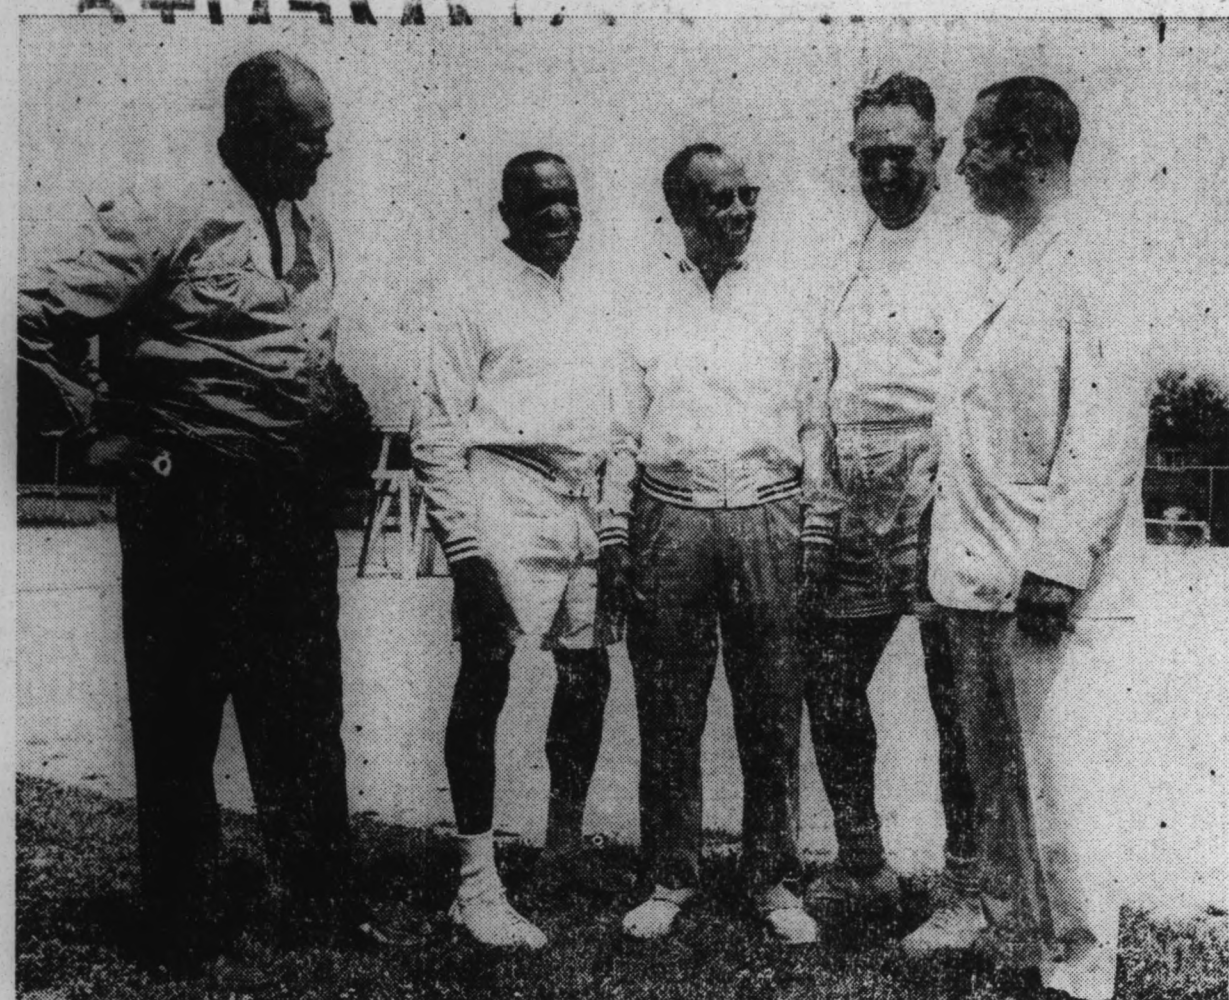

Washington didn't hurt me, but I hit him some real solid shots and he didn't even blink. I wish him the best of luck."

give Ruiz the base theft regardless. Friol was the storm-center of the game's biggest rhabarb in the 7th. Running from first on Dick Tracewski's long single to right, he was called out at third on Jim Snyder's relay from the outfield. We were sitting right on top of the play, and will have to admit he looked safe to me. The ensuing dispute led to the ejection of Omaha's manager and coach.

FRIOL HAD A good day at the plate with 2-for-3 and he got same satisfaction by throwing out Ruiz on an attempted steal of third in the 7th.

Altman's Success Story: From Bench to Top Star

Douglass Little Stars in District

Douglass Little League All-Stars were making their second bid for state honors in four years this week as they were scheduled to meet Prentice in the district playoffs at Meadows on Thursday, July 27. Game time was 6 p.m.

Orchard will oppose Brownsburg Friday, and the winners will clash for the district championship at 4 p.m. Saturday.

MANAGED BY MOSE DRIVER and coached by Otha Hamler, Douglass won its way to the district competition by taking the Area 3 playoffs last weekend. It was the first time the playoffs had been held at Elsie Clark Memorial Stadium.

Douglass defeated Fair 3-1 in the championship tilt. The Douglass boys got 9 hits while pitchers Michael Jones and Leo Yeakey limited the opposition to 3.

Earlier, Douglass had swamped Ozark, 21-6, in the first round.

Back in 1958, Douglass progressed to the state Final Eight before tasting defeat.

CHICAGO (ANP) — It has been said time and again, you can't tell how the ball will bounce.

For George Altman, right fielder for the Chicago Cubs, it has bounced just right this season.

This is George's third year with the National League team and he has established himself as a star. In 1959, he was good enough to be voted the team's Rookie of the Year and he saw intermittent action last season, being handicapped by knee injuries.

This year, at the outset, he had a back seat in the Cubs' scheme of things. But that didn't keep the former Tennessee A & I athlete great from hustling, and when he got a chance in the starting lineup, he made the most of it.

When the teams took a midseason break for the first All-Star Game, Altman was batting .2nd in the National League, trailing Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clemente had a percentage of .357, to .349 for Altman.

AS A SUB for the All-Star team representing the senior league, Altman contributed his bit. Called on in the 8th as a pinch-hitter, he delivered in grand style—on the first pitch cracking out a home run deep into the right field stands.

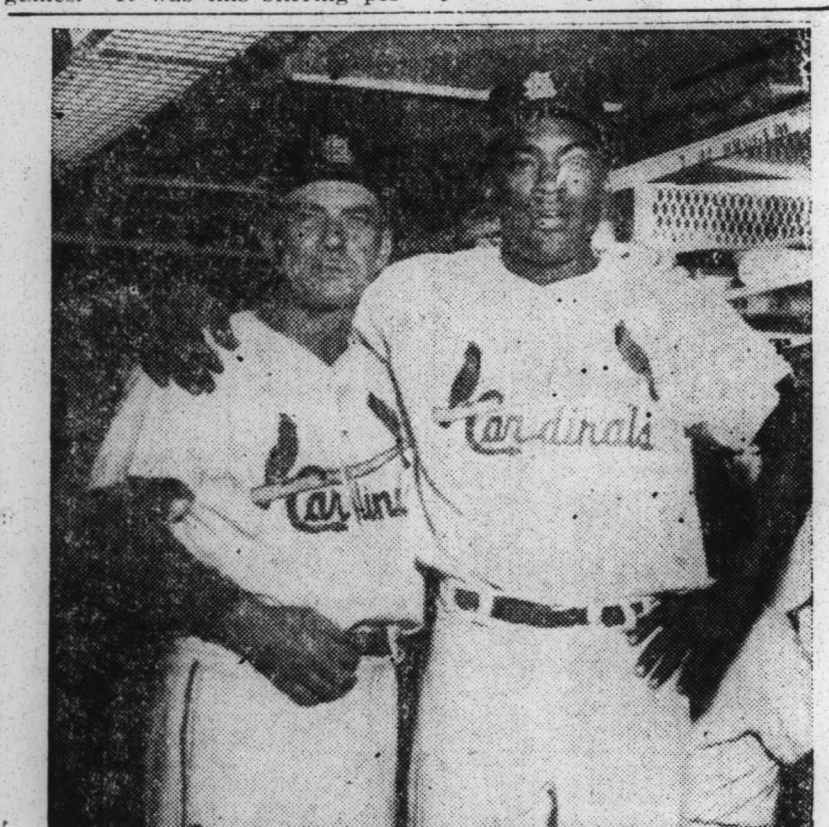

Altman was something of a forgotten man in the Cubs' outfield plans last spring, and was a bench-warmer when the season opened.

"He never once complained," says Harry Craft, one of the team's several alternate managers. "He kept right on hustling to the hit. He was the first one on the field every day and the hardest worker."

"He was simply biding his time and waiting for his chance in the lineup."

Altman as this is written, in 73 games has collected 91 hits, including 17 home runs, for an average of .338. He is 4th in the league.

IN HIS HOTTEST stretch, George hit safely in 26 of 30 games. It was this stirring performance that has won him the WHITE'S SECRET — NO SLEEP: St. Louis Cardinals' Bill White (right), shown cuddled up with Redbirds' new manager Johnny Keane, recently tied the late Ty Cobb's 49-year-old record for hits in successive doubleheaders by belting 14 safeties in two twin bills. And the big first baseman had only 45 minutes' sleep to do it on. The first doubleheader went to 1 a. m., and by the time White got to bed it was 3 o'clock. But knowing he had to conduct a baseball clinic the next day, he couldn't sleep. The following day Bill instructed till noon, ate lunch and went to the park. He snatched his 45-minute nap on a training table before taking the field for pre-game practice.

Rap Lawyer, Judge In Liston Trial

D. A. Probes 'Payoff,' Orders Sonny's Arrest

(Special to ASSOCIATED NEGRO PRESS)

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — The first Negro appointee to the Philadelphia Registration Commission, and the judge who presided over the trial in which boxer Sonny Liston was acquitted of impersonating an officer while accosting a Negro woman driver in a park, both are under fire in the wake of a rumored payoff in the case.

Harvey N. Schmidt, a Philadelphia lawyer recently appointed to the $10,000-a-year Commission post, was accused by New York columnist Dan Parker of accepting a $2,500 bribe on behalf of his client in the Liston case.

Schmidt represented Miss DeLores Ellis, 29, the woman Liston and a companion, Isaac Cooper, were accused of accosting on a deserted road in Fairmount Park. Liston, the suspended No. 1 heavyweight contender, was accused of flashing the spotlight of his car on Miss Ellis' auto in the manner of a policeman. After curbing Miss Ellis' auto, the two men reportedly tried to get her to get out of the car. At that moment, however, a park policeman arrived on the scene. Liston and his companion fled, with Liston turning off the headlights of his auto.

The two were overtaken by the officer after a bristling chase of more than a mile.

AT THE TRIAL, which lasted only a few minutes, Liston apologized to Miss Ellis and she agreed to drop the charges.

The judge, Magistrate E. David Kaiser, came under fire for what was described as the "unusual manner" in which he conducted the case. It was heard at 8:30 a. m.—half an hour before the normal time—and was dispensed with before spectators or newsmen had arrived.

Meanwhile, Schmidt strongly denied the allegation by Parker, who said he got his information from an "irrefutable source." Schmidt also denied Parker's assertion that Miss Ellis was asked to drop the charges.

"We didn't ask for the charges to be dropped. We agreed to drop the matter after Liston said he would apologize to Miss Ellis," Schmidt explained.

He said that although he didn't believe there was anything "funny" about the incident, there was nothing criminal in Liston's actions.

DESPITE SCHMIDT'S DENIAL, District Atty. James C. Crumlish is conducting a sweeping investigation of the whole case. The D. A. explained, however, that he had the "utmost respect" for Schmidt.

Schmidt was sworn in last week as Commissioner. There were no immediate indications that his job was in jeopardy.

Meanwhile, the D. A. ordered the re-arrest of Liston. But

Jesse Owens Loses Post After Endorsing Hoffa Aide

CHICAGO (ANP) — Jesse Owens lost a $7,400-a-year job here recently, one day after his pro-Hoffa candidate was defeated in a crucial labor election.

Owens was discharged from his post with the Illinois Youth Commission. He attributed his dismissal to a cut in the commission's budget.

However, the discharge came the day an election in which 5,200 Chicago taxicab drivers voted to oust Joseph Glimco, who had headed the Teamster-taxicab local since 1951.

Owens had been severely criticized for urging members to vote for Glimco, an ex-convict who was accused of molesting the union from Dominic Abata.

In the election supervised by the National Labor Relations Board, Abata won control of the drivers' union again.

Loss of his state job was not expected to affect Owens' positions as a disc jockey and as part owner of a public relations firm.

Owens not long ago was criticized because he advised Negro track stars to call off their boycott of a jimcrow Texas track meet.

The former Olympic great was one of the platform guests when Jimmy Hoffa, powerful boss of the Teamsters' Union, made an appearance here to boost the candidacy of Glimco at a pre-election rally.

Glimco has been charged repeatedly with using union funds for his personal use.

OWENS' APPEARANCE was a surprise. It was regarded as the handiwork of Hoffa, who once "used" Joe Louis to influence a jury composed largely of Negroes

Now Hear This: Russia Won Meet

The Associated Negro Press goofed last week and The Recorder followed it "out the window."

Reporting the big Moscow track meet, ANP wrote: "The United States track and field team, led by such world-renowned stars as Wilma Rudolph, Ralph Boston and Frank Budd, defeated the Russian team by an over-all score of 124-111."

This, of course, was wrong. The U.S. men, including Ralph Boston, Frank Budd, etc., defeated the Russian men 124-111. But the Russian women defeated the U.S. women 68-39, despite Wilma Rudolph's victories.

The over-all score was Russia 179, United States 163. The athletes of both teams showed superb sportsmanship and this newspaper, for one, does not want to lag behind them.

DOWN MEMORY LANE . . . LOOKING BACK thru a mountain of reading material given us by C. J. (Swift) Howard of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, we ran across this piece in the railroad's mag of Feb. 1953, headed PRR Honors Fraternal Leader. (The Pennsylvania had just named a coach in honor of J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World. The J. Finley Wilson Pullman car was christened that year at the 30th St. Station — Philadelphia on December 30.)

The article said that J. M. Symes, executive vice-president of the Railroad, presented to the widow of the Elk leader a scroll memorializing her husband's services. In making the presentation, Mr. Symes said:

"The Pennsylvania wants to give recognition to a man who symbolizes all the traditions of service. No part of this nation escaped the consciousness of his name and works during the thirty years he headed this great fraternal order. Under his leadership the Improved Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks of the World became more than a fraternal order. It became a great American instrument of service. We are happy to honor him and to bring his name to the attention of thousands who will see and travel on this car. In this way we hope to bring greater recognition to his work as an organizer, a leader of men, and a great American."

ROBERT H. JOHNSON, new Grand Exalted Ruler of the nation's largest Negro fraternal organization, acknowledged the dedication.

DR. WILSON built the Elks from a weak organization in 1922, when he was elected Grand Exalted Ruler just two years after joining it, into one of the world's most influential Negro groups. In 1950, when, despite ill health, he was re-elected Exalted Ruler by proclamation, there were more than 500,000 members in over 900 lodges here and abroad. Under his leadership the Order established an educational department which provided college scholarships for 700 students under grants exceeding a million dollars. He reorganized the Washington Star, the Order's publication, and served as editor and publisher for many years.

He was born in Nashville, Tenn. and educated at Fisk University. His occupations ranged from office boy, hotel bellboy and waiter, Pullman porter in Denver, miner in Arizona, cowboy in Wyoming, gold prospector in Alaska to newspaperman in several cities.

PRIZE FIGHTERS OF YEARS BACK . . . Looking thru a back issue of Ebony magazine of September, 1949, we ran across a picture-piece titled Gallery of Negro Boxing Champions . . . and just to refresh the memories of the oldtimers and to bring the youngsters up to date on past Negro champs, we present the roll call of the fistic greats: George Dixon, bantamweight and featherweight champ 1890-1899; Joe Gans, lightweight champ 1901-1908; Joe Walcott, welterweight champ, 1901-1906; Jack Johnson, heavyweight champ 1910-1915; Battling Siki, light-heavyweight champ 1922-1923; Tiger Flowers, middleweight champ 1926; Panama Al Brown, bantamweight champ 1932-1935; Young Jack Thompson, welterweight champ 1930-1931; Kid Chocolate, featherweight champ 1932-1934; John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight champ 1935-1938; Joe Louis, heavyweight champ 1937-1949; Henry Armstrong, featherweight, lightweight, and welterweight champ 1937-1940; Chalky Wright, featherweight champ 1941-1942; Beau Jack, lightweight champ 1942-1944; Bob Montgomery, lightweight champ 1943-1947; Ike Williams, lightweight champ 1947; Ray Robinson, welterweight champ 1946; Harold Dade, bantamweight champ 1947; Sandy Saddler, featherweight champ 1948-1949; Ezzard Charles, heavyweight champion 1949. (Note: champions since 1949 are naturally not included, since this was written in '49). The article also mentions Tom Molneaux as the first "unofficial" champion among Negro fighters. Ex-slave beat all U. S. heavyweights by 1809 and went to England to meet world champion Tom Cribb. He kayced Cribb in 23rd round but Briton won by fluke. Peter Jackson won Australian heavyweight title, came to U. S. in 1888 but found top heavies shying away from him. Sam Langford never held a title but oldtimers claim he could have beaten champs from lightweight to heavy. (From September, 1949 Ebony)

The youngster gave up four singles, three walks and a hit batsman . . . But Downing was charged with only five of the runs. It wasn't so bad for the rookie, because Hal Reniff, who relieved Downing, was tagged for six runs before he was relieved by Ralph Terry with one out in the fourth. There's always another day.

"Hoodlum Priest" Booked for Showing Sunday at Walker Theater

It was obvious to every member of the audience at the Walker Theater that every member of the cast of "The Hoodlum Priest" believed every word of his dialogue, every minute of the 101 minutes the exciting story takes to unfold. This United Artists release is at once tough and tender, sensational and serious; it moves fast, it hits hard and pulls no punches. And it is true. In St. Louis today, Rev. Charles Dismas Clark, S.J. is referred to by press and public as "The Hoodlum Priest."

Dynamic actor Don Murray now adds his vivid portrayal of Father Clark to the already impressive roster of screen priests . . . but never have we seen one as unusual as this Jesuit who devotes his entire life to the rehabilitation of ex-convicts, the prevention of crime and the reform of penal systems. As Father Clark, Murray talks candidly with his "beloved sons" in their own jargon and in their own hangouts. For realism, Irvin Kershner directed the film in St. Louis, on the actual locations.

The story, sharply scripted by Don Deery and Joseph London, turns on the fate of a young hood, played with superb compassion by Kier Dullea, and the attempts by Father Clark to find him work and keep him "clean." Dullea's "portrait of a punk" is masterful and moving.

Murray's own impassioned characterization of this tough, determined Jesuit priest is certain to be long remembered.

DON MURRAY, who also produced the film, stars in "The Hoodlum Priest," which is based on the actual work done by Rev. Charles Dismas Clark with ex-convicts in St. Louis. Murray plays the part of Father Clark in the United Artists release which will open Sunday at the Walker theater.

record . . . It seems that death has a way of equalizing the score. Cobb, while topnotch ball player was considered a "nigger" hater . . . and at the same time was disliked by many ball players because of his roughness on the base paths with spikes razor-sharp. Now comes Bill White, Negro first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals to even the score or at least ease it up a bit. White collected 14 hits in two consecutive twilight doubleheaders Monday and Tuesday. Monday night, July 17, White collected seven singles and a double in 10 times at bat . . . Tuesday he got 6 hits in 8 trips to the plate . . . a home run and 2 singles in the opener and a double and two triples in the nightcap. Wherever race-hating Ty Cobb is . . . we believe he got the message . . . And Wednesday night, July 19, White belted a 10th-inning single that won the game for the Cardinals over the Giants. Up to last Thursday he had sixteen hits in his last 5 games. He also got a triple in that game.

WILLOW AND WONDROUS
WILMA . . . This Tennessee State gal is just too much . . . Man she's way out — like a breeze . . . she sails thru the air with much ease . . . That's the tall and lanky brownskin gal from good old Tennessee . . . and we wonder just how proud are the segregationists of that state of the many records this brown gal is bringing back to that part of America. We know you have been reading about her many triumphs at Stuttgart, Germany. Keep up the good work, you youngsters, and one of these days they will recognize us as HUMAN BEINGS.

WELL SUH, the vice squad made a raid at the Plaza hotel last Wednesday night and arrested the woman manager, a woman guest and the captain bellhop. The charges range from "knowingly renting a room for prostitution; aiding prostitution in a hotel; and, being a prostitute." The Plaza hotel has both white and Negro permanent guests. And is located on the stem at Capitol Ave.

PEOPLESIZING THE WRONG
PEOPLE For many months we have been givin' some of our folk the real rough treatment for patronizing taverns and eateries where they refuse to serve you at the counter or table . . . But, seemingly, it has fallen on deaf ears . . . Because we still see some of our folk easing in these places and easing out with packages in their hands or under their arms. Just the other day while coming from Bob Womack's home we came back by way of Harding St. and saw two men come out of an ofay tavern on that street with a large bottle (wrapped, of course) and just grinning as they got into an auto . . . seemed to be so happy that Mr. Charlie sold them a bottle to take out . . . and this place is not too far from Sam's Package store or Bob Harvey's Ritz Lounge . . . and since they were driving what difference did it make to drive 3 more blocks . . . and we see the same thing when we go out on Northwestern past 27th St. . . . and we guess they're still buying food to take out at Chef's Drive-In on W. 50th St. . . . Seems as if these people would have got the message by NOW. And just THINK of those Freedom Riders and what they're FIGHTING FOR! And, we in the NAWTH! Shame, names, PRONTO!

NOTICE . . . All entertainers, combo and band leaders are urged to send or phone their names, address and telephone numbers into the theatrical department of this newspaper. (ME. 4-7049) We are trying to build up a directory of all local entertainment . . . Because we do have calls for piano players, singers, shake dancers, tap dancers, Afro-Cuban dancers, combos and what have you. Let's have those names, PRONTO!
BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . According to a piece we read the other day, Americans are spending more money for dog and cat foods ($400 million) than for baby foods ($285 million). We sure must love those 4-footed little and sometimes big, animals (whatabout!)
UNION HALL CLOSED . . . Construction workers are weepin' and wailin' along the stem about the big padlock on the Hod-Carriers' hall on Senate Ave. They're wondering just what it's all about . . . and rightly so . . . Because rumors are flying about certain

Because of the crowds nitely at the bistro, the management advises all jazz buffs to please call early for reservations, in order to guarantee you and your friends a table during the show.

The management appreciates your wonderful patronage and is doing all they can to make accommodations for you when you visit the playspot.

So, be sure and call the Topper Cocktail Lounge, Indiana's finest jazz club, for reservations for this Friday and Saturday.

Masco Young's They're Talking About

By MASCO YOUNG

THE FLAMINGOS vocal group, who have just completed a reorganization of their aggregation by adding three new singers, a guitarist and a saxophone player, have quietly joined the End Records label and joined another recording company which had been anxious to sign them for several years. Hush-hush about the whole deal, Jake and Ezekiel Carey, business managers of the Flamingos, are not ready to make an announcement of the switch yet.

LITTLE WILLIE JOHN, the King recording star who recently announced the formation of Kev-Keith Productions, Inc., a company that will produce movies, is now shopping for original scripts suitable for depicting the Negro's role in American life.

BROOKS O'DELL's new backer is Sandy Heckler, a wealth Land-dale, Pa. white lady who owns a chain of real estate investments and businesses throughout Pennsylvania and South Jersey. She recently bought the swank Blue Candle Lounge in suburban Orendale, Pa., and made Brooks her first attraction.

NINA BUNDY, one of the newest jazz singing discoveries, and who's managed by veteran radio newsman-promoter Leon Fisher, has three recording offers under consideration since her smash engagement at Philly's Pep's Musical Bar where she made her professional debut.

WHEN GEORGIE WOODS' big Labor Day show kicks off on Aug. 26 at the Uptown Theater in Philly, the patrons will get their first chance to see singer James Brown playing the organ he added to his repertoire several months ago.

JIMMY SIGLER, organist with Frank Hoppinstall's Allegros jazz group, has served notice to Frank that he's quitting and forming his own trio in September. Jimmy will be joined by Jimmy Thomas and

Liston Trial

Sonny was in Denver, Colo., on a reported "reform pilgrimage" under the wing of a Roman Catholic priest, Rev. Edward Murphy. His wife was expected to join him in Denver shortly.

Father Murphy said he and Rev. William Wade, a Jesuit priest from leave from St. Louis University, would attempt to rehabilitate Liston and get him reinstated. Father Murphy commented: "If Sonny does a good job, the suspension eventually will be lifted. They can't take away completely a man's livelihood."
MEANWHILE LISTON CONTINUED to challenge Floyd Patterson, the heavyweight champion. "Patterson says it's the mob that keeps him from fighting me, but there ain't no mob. I'm the only mob he's worried about," Sonny remarked.

interest wanting to move the offices to a "whiter" neighborhood. But what the trouble is now we don't know. (period)

BREEZING ALONG with the News . . . Ollie Garrett and brother will be soon taking over a tavern on North West St. . . . James Love's new Cotton Club will open in August . . . The popular Irene Reed of the Finance Center came to tell us that Singer Preston Johnson is in Veterans Hospital, where his condition is listed as satisfactory (as of Tuesday a. m.) . . . Delovely June Harding and girl friend motored in from Cleveland last week for a short vacation. They motored to Louisville last Saturday. They were royally entertained by their many friends while in Naptown . . . Clarissa Richardson is back on the stem . . . So was Sue Parker, and looking fine . . . "Toogie" Williams is doin' a fine job with the trade at The Place to Play on the stem . . . The same can be said of Bill and Bob at the Oriental, where biz is pickin' up.
VACATIONING . . . Walter Beverly Jr., Sam Neal, Vernon Bettis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and Laurence Neal are vacationing in Milwaukee, St. Paul and Chicago.

NOTES FROM CHICAGO . . . Miss Jo Marie Boyd celebrated her birthday with a host of friends on July 15. Her mother Mrs. Willie Vineyard of Whiting, Tenn., was guest of honor. It was really a gay affair and Miss Boyd received lots of beautiful gifts. Serving as hostess, was Mrs. Helen Bland of 5014 S. Parkway . . . Miss Hattie Burrough celebrated her 24th birthday on July 17, with her sister Rebecca and a few close friends, which included Mrs. Mildred Irvin and Mr. Doc Russell, one of Chicago's professional gift teachers. A wonderful time was had by all. (by M.I.)

DEBBIE ANDREWS, formerly with Duke Ellington's band, is presently chirping like mad at Marvin Silver's Pink Poodle on the Southside. Miss Andrews comes to the bistro direct from the Hawaiian Islands and Los Angeles. Others appearing on the bill now thru Saturday include Princess Becoate, shake dancer; James Scruggs, emcee and the Sonny Johnson combo.

Melvin Bell Starts New Unit

Melvin Bell, the young man who organized the original Be-Boppers, is busy with plans for the formation of a new singing group in the very near future.

Bell is both singer and dancer, and has appeared at several local nite spots and at dance halls out of the state.

He expects to appear soon on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour, a weekly TV show.

RENO'S HOUSE ROCKERS

Reno's House Rockers are the featured attraction at the B & L Bar, 732 S. Illinois St., this Friday and Saturday.

The popular swing aggregation has been attracting good crowds to the southside bistro for the past several weeks, and this week end they promise to give patrons of the B & L a new look on the latest in swing and jazz.

Homey Sherlock, owner of the bistro, invites entertainment lovers from all parts of the city to come out this Friday and Saturday and join in the fun. He says the house will be really rockin'.
